

Does your expert hold the Certified Forensic Litigation Consultant credential?

The Certified Forensic Litigation Consultant (CFLC) is a professional certification awarded to FEWA Professional Members who have met the stringent eligibility criteria established.

Certification recipients have completed required coursework within our nine core competency areas which include those items that experts need to know, but may not learn within their field of practice. The criteria requires significant participation in FEWA educational courses and passing the CFLC exam.

Certified Forensic Litigation Consultants have proven their commitment to continuing education and understanding of the litigation process.

Next time you hire an expert - ask if they hold the CFLC credential.

If you have any questions, please contact the FEWA office at info@forensic.org or call 415.369.9614.
