RE: Workers Compensation Claim

Dear Dr. Poletajev:

I am sending this letter to thank you for your recent participation in my Client's Workers Compensation Claim. As you may recall, my Client's Claim had been in litigation pursuant to an Order of the West Virginia Workers' Compensation Division granting my Client no permanent partial disability award for occupational injury. Following your Independent Medical Examination and subsequent deposition testimony regarding your findings, the West Virginia Office of Judges reversed the aforementioned Decision and granted my Client a 15% permanent partial disability award for his occupational injury. You may also recall that the Employer's Orthopedist in this Claim opined that my Client had no impairment.

Thank you once again for your expert participation in this Claim. I would be happy to have the opportunity to work with you again in the future.

Sincerely,

Stephen G. Higgins
